

Personal freedom & unlimited earning

Identical twins Jack and John lead different lives. John works a typical, 40-hour-per-week salaried job. Jack, a DheltGroup sales executive earning commission, has the freedom to work where he wants, when he wants.

Jack works on commission as an independent Sales Executive.

John has worked as a salaried employee at his office for 3 years.

The sky's the limit for earning potential:
no caps on commissions & revenue share.

Average Earnings
for top 10 sales agents
$102K

Earns a steady 3% raise annually. In three years, his income has gone from $48,6723 to $53,185.

Receives commissions for each service he sells, as long as it remains active and service is paid.

Plus, unlike some other companies, the commission rate DheltGroup pays doesn't stop, it is continuous.

Works where and when he wants, securing a minimum of two accounts each month.

Arranges his flexible schedule to golf every Friday.

Always has cash on hand, since DheltGroup Advance System provides him a portion of his monthly commission upfront.

Feels secure knowing Dhelt Group will continue to pay commissions even if he is no longer actively selling based on vesting and contract agreement.

Commutes in heavy traffic to a 9-to-5 job.

Marks the days until the rare three-day holiday weekend.

Juggles his finances for his biweekly paycheck.
